Notes to Contributors

Arc is published twice a year. It seeks to provide a platform for the swift publication of all types of research in progress and for critiques and reviews of all theoretical aspects of Archaeology and its related disciplines. Contributions are invited from scholars and students in any discipline. Articles must not normally exceed 5,000 words and must be typed (double space) on A4 format. Comments and correspondence concerning published material are especially welcome. Unfortunately the Editors cannot always guarantee that the copy-edited versions of manuscripts will be returned to authors before publication.

All correspondence should be addressed to The Editors, ARC, Department of Archaeology, Downing Street, Cambridge.

Arc retains the copyright on all the material it prints, but reproduction and publication rights are granted to authors on request.
